DETAILED ACTIONClaim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 13-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Atwood # 6,308,936 B1 in view of Bove et al. # 6,306,484.

Atwood discloses a highway guard rail support comprising:

A block (20) having a length of 14", a width of 6" and a length of 8".

Said block have a hole (42) formed therein, at a location off center that is approximately 1 ½" from a side of the block. Although Atwood does not specifically disclose the diameter of the bolt receiving hole (42); Atwood does illustrate the location and approximate size of the hole (42), such that the hole (42) appears to be approximately ¾" in diameter, and disposed approximately 1 ½" from a side of said block, when compared to the overall width of the block. See fig. 3; cols. 1-2.

What Atwood does not disclose is making the block from automobile tires.

However, Bove et al. teaches recycled tires can be formed into laminated sheets of multiple layers, for use as a guard rail, guard rail block support, and parking stops.

The Akamite sheets being formable in widths between 6-8" and of any desired thickness, depending on the intended use of the material. See cols. 2, 6.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made to make the guard rail support of Atwood, from recycled tire treads, as taught by Bove et al., in order to reduce the demand for landfill space.

Response to Amendment

2. Applicant's amendment canceling claims 1-12 has overcome all objections and rejections set forth in the Last Office Action.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-12 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
